*Vacation off
the grid but in the comfort of a cabin!*

Want to vacation off the grid? This cabin may be the perfect fit! Located in the private community of Mountain-Aire in the Giant Sequoia National Monument, this cabin has a large great room with vaulted ceilings and lots of window, a nice-sized kitchen, and a sleeping loft/bedroom and bath. The deck out back overlooks a flat usable area currently set up as a firepit and the cabin is in walking distance of the forest and Giant Sequoias. There is no electricity in Mountain-Aire and the current owners use propane lanterns for lights, but the cabin is wired with lights, outlets and switches so it could be connected to a generator to power those devices.
